chamber of com-merce

noun

noun: Chamber of Commerce; plural noun: Chambers of Commerce; noun C. of C.

A local association to Promote and Protect the interests of the business community in a particular place.

BACKGROUND

About the Chamber

The Chamber is an independent non-profit, membership-based organization that is not a part of the city, the government, or any other group. We are the Voice of Business in our community, and work to promote Saskatoon's economy, businesses, entrepreneurs, all while advocating for positive business policies locally and provincially. We are connected to our counterparts at the Saskatchewan Chamber of Commerce, Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and even internationally to be the gateway to our city and also the hub of the community for information and advocacy. The Chamber Movement is about connections – join us and be a part of the network.

History of the Greater Saskatoon Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber has been part of the Saskatoon business environment since 1903, when a group of individuals organized in the spirit of creating a better business climate in what was then a rapidly growing city. Knowing that strong businesses were (and are) job creators and the backbone of a vibrant community, the Chamber, driven by its committed membership of business professionals, tackled issues and built strong relationships with community, educational, business and governmental organizations. These strong ties continue to this day, making the Greater Saskatoon Chamber of Commerce a strong institution that spearheads real, positive change for our 1,500 entrepreneur and business members.

Publication History

The Chamber has published a newsletter for most of its 115 year history, originally starting as a short correspondence piece, and more recently rebranding it as “BusinessView” in 2002, and expanding to a full-colour glossy magazine with wider public distribution in 2008. Our latest rebranding to “Business Voice” solidifies the magazine as the flagship publication of the Greater Saskatoon Chamber of Commerce, with current stories about members, issues affecting the business community and updates on the Chamber's activities, with an expanded format and bold new look.

Editorial Vision

Business Voice seeks to tell our member's stories, promoting a positive business news environment and stories of local success missing in mainstream media. We lend a business lens to the news happening in our community, and look to provide a voice to our members concerns. We seek to educate, inform, and also entertain Saskatoon business owners who are invested in what happens in our city.

Why Advertise in Business Voice?

Connect with influential Chamber Members and non-members alike and leverage the Chamber's status in the community as a leader for business issues. The public sees the Chamber, and those connected with our organization, as a preferred choice for consumer needs – 63% of people are more likely to do business with a Chamber Member than a non-members (source: Shapiro Group study for the ACCE). Advertising rates are an excellent value and proceeds help to serve the mission of the Chamber to build a community that is a preferred choice to live, work, and build a business. Distribution of the Business Voice includes one poly-bagged issue (to allow for inserts) to each Chamber representative in our network, a direct mailed copy to every business in the city, copies in the departure lounge at the airport and available at all Chamber events totaling over 9000 copies per issue.

63% of people are more likely to do business with a Chamber Member than a non-member.
