Planning for Next Year

- Have list of topics we would like on the website or for presentations
 - Editorial rules for website
 - Should be growth-oriented
 - Should look through a business lens
 - Example:
 - “Innovation: what they did and how they did it” may be a potential presentation
 - Can we have other formats aside from events?
 - Due to geographic constraints
 - Have contests that can have major mindset changes we need
 - Maybe on April 15th
 - Have list of problems and crowdfund ideas
 - E.g. Water purification
 - Emerging Ag
 - What concepts in Agriculture can teams work on?
 - Nikolas Badminton, a futurist, is the keynote speaker
 - Use EBlast to promote. Get details.
- Rule of innovation according to Denver team leader: no new technology

GREATER SASKATOON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

- Can be any format
- Throw a challenge to another committee to change their mindset from “they government should” to “what can we do”
 - May also be an event
 - Will depend on how do you frame the problem
 - Example: Arts organizations are on decline
- Goals: (1) at least 3 questionnaires next year (2) Creativity forum: creating compelling stories. It’s a marketing problem
- Possible theme: “Fighting dystopia” or “Finding optimism.” It’s always pessimistic.
